CHURCH CASE.

Argument in C. P. Suit Before Court.

Arguments were heard last week in the court of appeals in the noted case of the Presbyterian church of America against the Cumberland Presbyterian church. At the Kentucky Synod of the latter church held several weeks ago in this city, a committee was appointed to attend the hearing of the case at Frankfort and several ministers and elders were present, among them number being Rev. A. C. Biddle, of this city. It is not probable that a decision will be handed down before next March.

Under the present law I am required to levy on and sell property for all unpaid taxes. You will please settle same at once to save cost.

JNO. B. RUSSELL, Assignee of M. E. Nolen.

THE ELECTION WAS POSTPONED

WILL BE HELD BY COUNCIL AT ADJOURNED MEETING TOMORROW NIGHT.

LICENSE STILL AT $1,000.

APPROPRIATIONS AMOUNTED TO ABOUT $3,400 FOR THE PAST MONTH.

The City Council met Friday night and devoted most of its time to routine business, postponing the election of officers and the granting of saloon licenses to an adjourned meeting tomorrow night.

The appropriations were unusually heavy, as some contract payments were due. The bills paid were: The November budget $266.21, City Light Co., street lighting for November, $534.09; Water Co., bill for six months, $2,400; Gus H. Moore, Jr., three bills for contract pavement work, $47.25; Wooldridge & Co., team hire, $39. Chairman Galbreath reported the payment of 22 street bonds, principal, premium and interest amounting to $11,619.67 and the report was accepted. The bonds will be destroyed in open council to-morrow night. The Corporations Committee submitted a written report in the matter of the private sewers ordered closed last fall, protesting against the transfer of the private sewers to the Hopkinsville Sewerage Co. The city claims that the rights conferred were revoked, were non-transferable and that the pipe lines left in the streets belong to the city. The report was ordered to record as a basis of future action.

An order was made directing the Street Committee to have an accurate measurement made of the railroad mileage including sidetracks in the city, of the sidewalks, granite, brick and cinders, and of the streets improved and unimproved. The City Engineer will be furnished with assistants and the work completed by the meeting on Dec. 18. On the suggestion of City Engineer McClain, the same surveying party will locate boundary lines and establish permanent markers for the city limits on all sides.

The usual reports of officers were received.

The City Attorney was directed to draft an ordinance renewing the liquor licenses for another year at present rates. The saloon license was again fixed at $1,000, and a provision added that a saloon can occupy only one room under one license.

ATTRACTION NO. 3

AT TABERNACLE, THURSDAY NIGHT, DEC. 17.

P. J. Bugbee, President of the New York State Normal School, says of Judge Willis Brown, who will appear at the Tabernacle Dec. 17:

"Judge Willis Brown is a speaker of superior abilities and he has an inspiring message. His address to the students, teachers and citizens of Oneonta at the Normal School held the closest attention of his audience, and he left an impression of sincerity and devotion to a great purpose. His lecture is educational and he treats the problem of the wayward boy from the point of view of one who has had large experience and who has keen insight and the deepest sympathy. Of all the speakers who have visited this school we know of no one whose return would be more welcome."

EIGHT CONFIRMED.

BISHOP WOODCOCK PREACHES TWO STRONG SERMONS.

Bishop Woodcock preached at Grace Episcopal church Sunday and his sermons were among the ablest and most eloquent discourses he has ever delivered here. At night a class of eight new members was confirmed.

NINE STUDENTS COME HOME.

Henry and Jack Stites and Joe Slaughter, of this city, and three young men of Pembroke—Trabue, Williams and Pendleton; and three young ladies—Misses Alice Radford, Frances Pendleton and Janie Garrott—have returned from Georgetown College. The school adjourned until Jan. 5th, on account of an epidemic of typhoid fever, caused by impure water. Investigation showed that the water from the "Big Spring" was contaminated by a leak in a sewer pipe.

SCHOOL DISMISSES

On Account of Typhoid Fever in Georgetown.

Georgetown, Ky., Dec. 4.—Jack Covington, aged eighteen, a student in Georgetown College, died here yesterday of typhoid fever. His sister was with him when he died.

The body was shipped to his home at Hazelhurst, Miss., this morning. The college has been dismissed until January 5 on account of the epidemic of typhoid fever raging here.

There are said to be 125 cases of typhoid in town, though there have been but few deaths.

OUTSIDE THE STATE

Pooled Tobacco May Be Sold.

Frankfort, Ky., Dec. 4.—The case of Owen O'Bannin vs. Commonwealth, from Owen county, was reversed by the Court of Appeals. O'Bannin pooled his tobacco with the Burley Association, but the contract permitted the shipping of tobacco to Cincinnati.

It was shipped there, and while there O'Bannin sold it. He was in default for so doing and fined $216, under the Creelius law. The court holds O'Bannin guiltless because the sale was made out of the State.

LIFE RISKS IN AFRICA.

Expert Tells of President's Peril
From Disease While Hunting.

BAD FEVER ATTACK CERTAIN.

Baron d'Almonte, Who Knows Africa Well, Asserts Mr. Roosevelt Has Only Fifteen Chances in a Hundred of Surviving Tropical Paroxysms—Warns of Kermit's Danger.

When President Roosevelt allowed it to be announced that at the end of his presidency he would go to Africa with his second son, Kermit, a boy still under twenty, in quest of big game the American people, knowing little of Africa, took it as another phase of the president's many sided character without considering more than big game.

Baron A. B. d'Almonte, who knows Africa as well as the president knows New York city and who for nearly four years was commandant of the police forces in the Congo Free State and later headed the six months' hunting expedition of Prince Edo Eurnkoff in British East Africa, believes it is folly for a man of President Roosevelt's age to tempt the fevers and miseries of Africa. He says it is exceedingly dangerous to take a boy of Kermit Roosevelt's years into the jungle.

A representative of the New York World the baron said: "How will President Roosevelt hunt in East Africa? Will he take a train at Mombasa, but himself in an open car in front of the engine, and sleep at night in tents with herds of wild elephants or antelopes? No, surely. It will be forced by his own very daring nature to hunt following the precepts of Nimrod, in the only grand way, with all the trouble and all the dangers of the great battle."

"This will necessitate camping at night in the open, exposed to high temperature, full of insects and mosquitoes, or on the border of the muddy and pestiferous river—home of the tsetse fly—or in the treacherous and treacherous forest, full of miasmas and dampness. He will be forced to the long wait lying in ambush for the approach of the elephant; he will have to face the torrid heat of the sun, the intense cold of the night, the cold of the rainy season, the fly pest, the inflammation of the skin caused by porcupines, the nights without sleep on account of the heat and a hundred other things."

"These are the general and particularly dangerous in a hunting party in Africa without mentioning the perils of the daily life—bad water, the rainy season, the fly pest, the inflammation of the skin caused by porcupines, the nights without sleep on account of the heat and a hundred other things."

"To be short, I come to this conclusion that whenever suggested or did not directly advise him to go to Africa he is going to Africa has erred. He is fifty years old, and at his age he would encounter many dangers in Africa merely as a traveler, but as a hunter he will face the greatest perils of his life."

"Apart from the African fever and dysentery and other tropical diseases, President Roosevelt has another great enemy in his constitution, which is far from being perfect, though the average man may believe it is."

"First—The African sun is death dealing to highly excitable and full blooded men."

"Second—A man who so quickly loses his temper as does the president is not likely to succeed in the miserable climate of the African life to a special form of bilious fever which decomposes the blood and causes death in twenty-four hours. It is known as 'hematurique' fever."

"Here is the percentage table of mortality in central Africa as compiled by the African Travelling Association of London:

Twenty-three to thirty years	50
Thirty to thirty-five years	60
Thirty-five to forty years	60
Forty to forty-five years	60
Forty to sixty years	70
Sixty to sixty-five years	85
Over sixty-five years	95

"The mortality of Congo Free State white employees is 23 per cent in lower Congo and 40 per cent in upper Congo, as recognized by Commandant Charles Lemire, the famous Belgian explorer and authority on all African questions."

"Third—The terrible, the unavoidable danger is the African fever. Very few white people can say that they have visited the center of Africa without having fallen ill with this terrible disease. Among thousands of explorers and hunters hardly any have been spared from it, and those for some special reason or for an extraordinary physical constitution."

"Dr. Henry Drummond, one of the most intelligent African travelers, speaking of this, says: 'I never knew of a white man who lived in central Africa three months without a dangerous attack of the fever.'

NO REASON FOR IT

When Hopkinsville Citizens Show the Certain Way Out.

There can be no just reason why any reader of this will continue to suffer the tortures of an aching back, the annoyance of urinary disorders, the dangers of diabetes or any kidney ills when relief so near at hand and the most positive proof given that they can be cured. Read what a Hopkinsville citizen says:

Mrs. W. C. Owen, 212 E. Fourth street, Hopkinsville, Ky., says: "I do not hesitate to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills as an excellent remedy for kidney complaints. I speak, too, for them in behalf of my husband, who was cured of backache of a severe nature some two years ago, when we were living at Cardwell, Ky. He had suffered and complained a good deal and some days it was all he could do to drag himself about. Stooping or lifting caused him to suffer more intensely. Finally Doan's Kidney Pills were highly recommended to him and he procured them. They soon helped him and by the time he had taken the contents of two boxes he was completely rid of the trouble. I have never heard him complain of a symptom of kidney trouble since."

O'Connell and Massey.

Laughter has been fatal to at least one bill in the house of commons. In the days of O'Connell, Thomas Massey, who was a sworn foe to everything that suggested Catholicity, introduced a bill to abolish the suffix "mas" from all words in our language and to substitute "lide," thus converting "Christmas" into "Christitide," and so on.

When he had ended his introductory speech a Committee member said:

"Since the honorable member has made an insuperable objection to the word 'mas' why does he not set a good example by Anglicizing his own name?"

That case we should be quite willing to speak of as Thotide Tide."

The house roared with appreciative laughter, but Mr. Massey never recovered sufficient courage to speak of the bill again—London Standard.

"He's the most superstitious poker player I ever saw."

"Yes and he goes so superstitious that when he plays he doesn't play the game at all any more."

"You don't say!"

"Yes; he discovered that there are thirteen cards in each suit."

FOR KENTUCKY — Fair and slightly warmer Tuesday.

Rear Admiral Joseph B. Coghill is dead at his home in New Rochelle, N.
Y. He was a native of Kentucky.

Robbers dynamited the post-office safe at Sylacauga, Ala., and got away with $1,000 in stamps and cash.

Kentucky game laws were pronounced ineffective and useless at a meeting of sportsmen held in Louisville. An organization looking to more satisfactory laws is projected.

Trees will be planted along the gravel walk, and a concrete fence eighteen inches high will be built around the old abandoned cemetery
on Jefferson streets, Louisville, which has been cleaned of rubbish.

The tobacco barn of L. L. Dorsey, near Louisville, was burned by an incendiary, at a loss of $2,500 on the building and $1,500 on the tobacco.
Insurance $2,000. Two horses were burned out before the barn was burned.

MAKING READY*For Grand Entertainment At Tabernacle Tonight.

At the tabernacle last night the final rehearsal of the "Hall of Fame," the beautiful spectacular production that is to be given tonight
under the auspices of the Tabernacle Association and the W. O. W.

Mr. Osburn, the director, was very busy yesterday getting the tabernacle in shape for such a large performance. Arrangements have been made for a special orchestra and the piano on the stage has been moved to the floor of the auditorium so as to give plenty of room for the performance. All the participants in this beautiful spectacular performance were at the auditorium last night and all the different scenes
and dances rehearsed on the stage
the same as it will be given.

Mr. L. B. Flack and Mr. Fred Jackson, who are the comedians, are busy working up some local comedy and the audience is promised many an amusing and funny act.

Much interest is being manifested in the local jokes that will be sprung on an unexpected public."

The floral decorations which were at the Elks benefit are to be left for the performance.

The healthful green palms will make every scene appear as though
given in a tropical bower of green.

The prospects now are for a large crowd at this entertainment which will net a nice sum for the tabernacle association and the W. O. W.

Modern Woodmen of America

The Modern Woodmen of America
elected officers Friday night as follows:

J. Will Smith, consul; F. V. Martin, advisor; N. Stadelman, banker;
J. F. Clark, clerk; Joe Wolfe, escort;
Richard Thurmond, watchman; Hiram Sims, sentry; Palmer Graves,
W. W. Johnson and B. M. Weaver, board of managers.

Jno. B. Taylor, the world's champion negro runner, died in Philadelphia of pneumonia. He was a member of the olympic team.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than any other disease, put together, and until the proper way was discovered to be treated. For a great many years doctors announced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies; and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced incurable. Science
now knows that Catarrh is a constitutional disease
and therefore requires constitutional treatment.
Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Chas-
ter & Co., Toledo, O., is the one remedy known to be successful. It acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system.
They offer one hundred dollars for any case
not to exceed $100, paid for cures and testimonial checks to be sent to F. J. Chastor & Co., Toledo, O.

LYON'S LAST
REPLY TO EWING

Brings Out Some New Points
and Stands Pat On the Others.

HAS BEEN IN FRONT

Since the Associations Troubles First Came
On.

The following extracts are from the latest letter of Hugh Lyon, of Eddyville to Mr. Ewing:

Lyon county growers have been done a great injustice by having our position misrepresented, for when we took up our matters with the association managers, we did not feel that liberty to take up grievances for other counties, but if the system we asked for is satisfactory and profitable to us, we naturally felt the same system will be satisfactory and profitable to growers of other counties.

And if the system is agreeable to other counties and they do not take interest enough in their affairs to take action, then they should not blame us for wanting to do what is best for ourselves. For at a glance,

any one with a fair conception of a business proposition, can readily see that our petition is with all respect and consideration for Mr. Ewing, and the principles that should be embraced in organization and association.

Our proposition is to compare our tobacco with that of other counties,
place the same price on the same quality, no matter where it grows,
not to sell one crop until we can sell all in the county, not to sell the county crop until we can obtain the same price for our tobacco that is placed on the same quality of tobacco in other counties. Isn't that as association? By having the privilege to sell one county would invite independent buyers to purchase one quality of tobacco in one county, at the same price the trust can buy the same quality in another country; certainly all buyers are not in a trust,
if so this plan won't work.

If the Planters' Protective Association controlled all the black tobacco, and would not sell one hoghead until all would sell, then we would have a union for sure, but that would destroy competition, except on a very, very large scale, and if the American Tobacco company is dissolved, then the buyers would have to form another trust in order to handle such an immense deal.

When the tobacco is sold, we ask that a grader be at each receiving house, grade the tobacco on delivery
as per established prices, subtract organization or association expenses,
and pay the growers the remainder on the spot. Which will save the growers inspection charges, insurance, interest on what money may be advanced, and other items. And allow the buyer to have some voice
in the handling of what he purchases
and cause an expenditure of thousands of dollars for labor in small towns of which they are now deprived.

If this proposition isn't fair, isn't practicable, business-like and with all respect and consideration for growers of other counties, and for principles
of organization and association,
we will appreciate a comment
from good, honest, hard working growers; we know that objections are in order from persons expecting positions at the expense of the members of the association.

The board of directors seem to think this idea merely a flight of fancy, or a road to the moon built of tissue paper rails, but it appears that Caldwell and Christian county growers consider the idea more substantial.

Shall we have a change or shall we have our tobacco prized and stored, and allow buyers to purchase as it is consumed? The reply from the board of directors to me was very

business like and of course appreciated by our growers and myself.

Your informant doesn't seem pleased to give me credit for having signed an obligation the first opportunity,

that I have ever since thrown my whole forces towards the welfare of the association and am now one of the 80 defendants to a $100,000 damage suit because of the association.

You do not appreciate that I urged our people not to bellyache because we haven't something we never asked
for, but to state our grievances,
and ask for relief, which was done
Nov. 7th, in a polite, respectable, business like manner as could have been.

And we appreciate the kind consideration given the matter and your determination to make us submit to the same methods as heretofore. You do not seem to appreciate my efforts in trying to get a system that would establish a lasting and friendly relationship between ourselves and the Planters' Protective Association.

My townspersons or any others who may say my motive is other than to promote the welfare of the tobacco
growers certainly have done Lyon county a great injustice by not proving it to us. We want the Planters' Protective Association to live, but we want to live, too, and, if under the present methods we cannot, we feel imposed upon by not having our petition granted.

May the association band wagon
roll merrily on, but I had rather walk than to ride at the expense of the Lyon county tobacco growers under present conditions. And we had all rather live up together to a tune
of satisfaction, success and happiness,
but the band seems out of tune.
The Lyon county growers are invited to meet a committee from Caldwell county at Kuttawa, Dec. 12, and take definite action in the matter. If the association has anything else to offer we will appreciate it,
but it should be more than a verbal promise, or a request to wait a little longer.

Frankfort, Ky., Dec. 4.—In the grand jury room of the Franklin county courthouse, the oldest temple of justice in Kentucky, and before a large crowd of spectators, the game cocks on exhibition at the annual State Fanciers and Breeders' Association last night sparred for the championship and a handsome loving cup. Diamond, a handsome gray cock of the first strain, belonging to S. M. Saufley, of this city, was given the decision after five fast rounds.

It was intended to have this novel exhibition in a pit on the judge's rostrum, but the crowd was so large that the pitting had to be done in the grand jury room.

SALE OF LITTLE RED CROSSES

Part Of a Great National Movement To Fight
Consumption.

STARTED IN DELAWARE.

Crusade Now Extends To All
States and Foreign Countries.

Mr. F. A. Sampson arrived in the city Saturday and found the arrangements for the sale of Christmas
stamps had been well made and there was little for him to do except to encourage the work.

This work which has been undertaken
in Hopkinsville by the Kentucky Anti-Tuberculosis Association, the sale of the Red Cross Christmas stamp, is part of a movement which has swept over the whole country,
and the results of which are expected to give to the Nation's battle against tuberculosis the greatest impetus it has ever received. Those who buy the Christmas stamp in Hopkinsville and Kentucky therefore, may know that while the money they give is to be used in the work here at home, they are taking part not in an isolated campaign,
but in a crusade which embraces all America and many countries of the Old World.

As has been related before, the idea for the Christmas stamp was born in Denmark in 1904, and last year, at the suggestion of Jacob A.
Riis, the famous sociologist, was sold as an experiment in Delaware.
The sale lasted less than two weeks,
but over 400,000 stamps were sold.
The encouragement received was so great that the National Red Cross Society decided to issue stamps to the anti-tuberculosis organizations of the whole country during the 1908 holidays.

PIPE LAYING DEVICE.

Caisson For Lowering Tubes Into Position Under Water.

Various methods have been adopted for handling and lowering lengths of pipe into position under water, but this patent caisson affords many advantages. The illustration shows a section of sixty inch cast iron pipe being lowered.

The caisson is six feet square by fifty-two feet long, divided into nine compartments, which can be separated.

CAISSON IN OPERATION

is flooded. When empty the caisson supports twenty-four iron pipes with each a lead. The section of pipe is made fast to the cradled top of the caisson, which turns when released from the barge and fills with water. When the bottom is reached the divers adjust the section to line and grade, cork the joints and then cut the caisson loose. It is then hauled up and pumped out in readiness for another trip.

SNOW AS A FERTILIZER.

Experiments Show That Its Value Has Been Overestimated.

From experiments conducted at Olivena, in Canada, it appears that there are some slight grounds for the widely accepted opinion among agriculturists that snow is a direct fertilizer, but that the amount of nitrogen it contains is small. It was found that a ton of snow equals about 100 pounds of animal nitrogen per acre of land covered by an average winter snowfall in that district. The amount of nitrogen as free ammonia was high, but fluctuated greatly from .082 to .580 parts per million. The nitrogen as ammonium ammonia ranged from .063 to .078 parts per million, and the nitrogen as nitrates and nitrites ranged from .027 to .390 parts per million.

The average of twelve determinations from Feb. 21, 1907, to May 4 was: Nitrogen as free ammonia .256, as ammonium ammonia .022 and as nitrates and nitrites .078 parts per million. The value of snow as a direct fertilizer would appear, so far as the nitrogen content is concerned, to be greatly overestimated. It is intended to continue the experiments both in summer and winter to determine definitely the material value of both snow and rain.

Value of Ferns.

On many farms in this country there are areas, more or less extensive, covered with ferns. This plant has not been regarded as of value except for decorative purposes, but, says Leslie's Weekly, it has a practical value of which few people in the United States are aware. An American consul reports that in parts of the British dominions have long been employed in packing fruit, fresh butter, etc., for market. Formerly grape leaves were used for this purpose, but the fern leaf is said to be far superior to that of the vine for keeping articles wrapped in fresh and wholesome. The fishermen of the coast of Maine pack the fresh herrings in fern, which keeps the fish fresh until it reaches the market. Potatoes packed in fern keep many months longer than those packed in straw. Fresh meat also is preserved for a protracted period when swathed in fern leaves. It is said that the preserving quality of the fern is due to the large quantities of salt in its composition. The strong odor of the fern also repels larvae, maggots, etc.

Factors in Long Life.

The theory of Metchnikoff that old age results from poisoning by bacteria in the colon and may be avoided by certain dietetic measures. Professor H. H. Bent, director of the pathological institute at Bonn, Death from old age is due to anatomical changes, atrophy of the nerve cells, and these changes are an inevitable result of the physico-chemical course of living matter. No proof of special effect of diet is obtained.

In the animal kingdom, longevity shows the meat eaters as likely to become a centenarian as the vegetarians, and the use of tobacco or alcohol signifies little.

The chief factors in long life appear to be descent from long lived stock and the accident of favorable living conditions.

Novel Test for Impairing.

In the novel cool tempering apparatus of W. Rosehill, as exhibited at a meeting of the London Royal Society, the metal is heated in a vacuum tube, and of the required temperature, shown by a thermo-electric indicator, is quenched by admitting water. The new silica tubes admit of sudden cooling from 1,000° to 20° centigrade heat.

A MEMORY OF THE PAST.

The Unloved Joy That Came With the Red Scarf.

"I was wondering about other day what one thing had given me the most pleasure in the world," said the village denizen. "I had to go back a long ways—clear back into the blessed Santa Claus days—but I recalled it. It was a scarf I found in my stocking one bright Christmas morning. It was a red scarf and my brother got a blue one. I was a mighty proud boy that morning as I trudged downtown with that red scarf around my neck. I wore it every day until the birds began to sing in the springtime and the kids were hunting up their marbles. I don't know who gave me that, but I do know that the memory of it still clings like a benediction."

"Since the days of that little red scarf I have had things of far more intrinsic value. I have worn lodges emblems of high degree; I have had a gold chain with a diamond set in the middle of that coat cost $5 and a necklace that cost twice as much as the little red scarf. Nay, more, I once tackled a plug hat. But among these things do I recall none that gave me such genuine and unloved pleasure, such a swelled up feeling, as did that little red scarf way back in the days when I was a boy. I have since had and howled. 'Tis the little red scarf days that stir the memory with 'It might have been!'"—Osborn (Kan.) Farmer.

PLAIN JOHN SMITH.

How His Name Changes In Various Parts of the World.

John Smith—plain John Smith—is not very high sounding; it does not suggest aristocracy; it is not the name of any man in history, and it is simple, and it is good, strong and honest. Transferred to other languages, it seems to climb the ladder of respectability. Thus in Latin it is Johannes Smithus; the Italian smooths it off into Giovanelli Smith; the Spaniards render it Juan Smithus; the Dutchman adopts it as Hans Smidt; the French flatten it into Jean Smith; and the German uses and backs Janhof Smithowski. When John Smith gets into the tea trade in Canton he becomes Jovan Shimbit; if he clammers about Mount Hecla, the Icelanders say he is Jahn Smithson; if he trades among the Tuscaroras he becomes Ton Qa Smithita; in Poland he is known as Jan Smitz; in Russia he is known as Ivan Smirnov; and among the Welsh mountaineers talk of Jihon Schmid; when he goes to Mexico he is booked as Jonell F'Smith; if of classic turn and he lingers among Greek ruins he turns to Ion Smikton, and in Turkey he is utterly disguised as Yac Seef—Phrenological Jour.

Mystery of a Cookbook.

Somebody mentioned cookbooks. "It takes a good deal to make me wonder," said the publisher, "but I received a bolt in the culinary line the other day that set me thinking. In looking over the manuscript of a cookbook recently submitted for our approval I was struck by this introduction to many of the recipes, 'Good for boarding house table.'"

"Now, why that discrimination? Isn't anything that is good enough for a boarding house table good enough for any other table, and isn't anything that is good enough for any other table good enough for a boarding house table?" Judging by the way those particular recipes read, they may result in some rather tasty dishes. Then why limit them to boarding houses?"—New York Globe.

His Successor.

Shortly after the death of one of England's greatest poets a devoted admirer of his visited the little Westmorland village where the poet had lived and died to gaze reverently at his house, the little church and at some of his favorite haunts where some of his immortal poems were composed.

Seeing an old man a native of the village, the stranger entered into conversation with him, remarking sadly on the death of the poet, to which the old man answered kindly and encouragingly:

"Aye, aye, still I mark no doubt but 't will 'arry the binezon."

Briar and Flit.

An American law journal has quoted the charge to a jury delivered by a certain Judge Donovan as the shortest on record. The judge said:

"Gentlemen of the jury, if you believe the plaintiff has a verdict for plaintiff and fix the amount. If you believe the plaintiff has no verdict for defendant. Follow the officer."

But an English periodical caps this brief charge by quoting a shorter one delivered by Commissioner Kerr. He said to a jury:

"That man says prisoner robbed him. The prisoner says he didn't. You settle it."

Plagiarism.

At the literary club a sympathetic crowd surrounded the humorist, whose house had been robbed.

"They cleaned out everything," said the master of the house, "but, thank goodness, they didn't swipe from my desk the manuscript edition of jokes for next week's paper."

"Perhaps they knew," suggested a sonderman cynically, "that the jokes had already been swiped."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Liberality.

The following circular has been issued by the Treasury Department at Washington:

A board of commissioned medical officers will be convened to meet at the Bureau of Public Health and Marine Hospital Service, 3 B street, S.E., Washington, D.C., Monday, Jan. 11, 1909, at 10 o'clock, a.m., for the purpose of examining candidates for admission to the grade of assistant surgeon in the Public Health and Marine Hospital Service. Candidates must be between 22 and 30 years of age, graduates of a reputable medical college, and must furnish testimonials from responsible persons as to their professional and moral character. The following is the usual order of the examinations: 1, physical; 2, oral; 3, written; 4, clinical.

In addition to the physical examination, candidates are required to certify that they believe themselves from any ailment which would disqualify them for service in any climate.

The examinations are chiefly in writing, and begin with a short autobiography of the candidate. The remainder of the written exercises consist in examination in the various branches of medicine, surgery and dentistry.

The oral examination includes subjects of preliminary education, history, literature and natural sciences.

The clinical examination is conducted at a hospital, and, when practicable, candidates are required to perform operations on a cadaver.

Successful candidates will be numbered according to their attainments on examination, and will be commissioned in the same order as vacancies occur.

Upon appointment the young officers are, as a rule, first assigned to duty at one of the large hospitals; as at Boston, New York, New Orleans, Chicago or San Francisco.

After four years' service assistant surgeons are entitled to examination for promotion to the grade of assistant surgeon.

Promotion to the grade of surgeon is made according to seniority and after due examination as vacancies occur in that grade.

Assistant surgeons receive $1,600,

plus assistant surgeon $2,500 a year.

Swift's Premium Calendar for 1909 consists of reproductions in color of four of the world's famous masterpieces of painting.

The first subject is Gaylord S. Truesdell's pastoral scene, "Going to Pasture." The original of this picture is now in exhibition in the Corcoran Art Gallery, Washington.

Next, Winslow Homer's stirring marine picture, "All's Well," was chosen. This picture is in Homer's best style, showing a strength and simplicity that conveys his idea at a glance. This is among the treasures of the Boston Museum of Fine Arts.

The third subject is Breton's famous "Song of the Lark." This picture, on exhibition at the Art Institute of Chicago, is the best known of the four. This beautiful reproduction faithfully portrays the spirit of the original.

Bouguereau's "The Sisters" complete this finest of all Swift & Company Calendars. Bouguereau is represented in this country by several paintings, especially mural decorations in New York. "The Sisters" in the Metropolitan Museum, is one of his best and happiest efforts.

The calendar can be secured for 10 cents in stamp or coin from Swift & Company, Union Stock Yards, Chicago, Ill., Calendar Dept.

Pertinent Points About People, Plans and Places.

JENKENS—Rev. Millard A. Jenkins will deliver his lecture on Jerusalem at the Penobrake Baptist church next Friday night, Dec. 11, under the auspices of the Young People's Union.

WINN—Paul Winn has been notified of his success in the popularity contest of the Louisville Post. He won a trip to Cuba with all expenses paid. It is not known yet when he will make the trip. Mr. Winn received more than 300,000 votes.

VAN CLEVE—The Cadiz Record says Tom Van Cleve, a former popular Hopkinsville boy, who has lived there several years, is to go on the road next year as a hardware drummer. He will travel for a Louisville house. Mr. Van Cleve is the son of Mr. John J. Van Cleve, of this county, and his wife was formerly Miss Estie Baker, of Julien.

BAYNHAM—Frank Baynham, one of Hopkinsville's best known young dry goods men, will leave for New Orleans on the 16th inst to accept a lucrative position in a large department store. He will carry with him the good wishes of many friends here and those who know him best are sure that he is entering upon a successful career in the mercantile business.

JOHNSON—It is not generally known, but L. A. Johnson, the druggist, is a most expert player of checkers. In fact he claims to be the champion player of this part of Kentucky and is hunting for some one who can play well enough to at least interest him. Esq. W. E. Warfield, of Casy, is something of a player himself and learning of Dr. Johnson's reputation as a player promptly challenged him for a series of games. Johnson beat him two straight with such ease that Esq. Warfield gave up without further effort. Mr. A. M. Henry, of Newstead, has a lot of friends who are anxious to pit him against the champion and a match may be arranged.

BUCKNER—The defeat of Mr. Samuel G. Buckner for re-election as Salesmen of the Planters Association here, is destined to have a far-reaching effect on the local market. Dissatisfaction with the salesmen selected is given as the prime cause for much of the tobacco from South Christian being diverted to Clarksville. The Leaf Chronicle says of the new conditions:

"Everything seems now to be coming 'Clarksville's way,' and receipts next year promise to show large increase. Much will depend upon the enterprise of the warehousemen, and the liberality of the banks. Planters wish to ship here if they get full encouragement, and the foreign buyers wish to buy here if there should be full stocks for their requirements. They are getting tired of samples and the freights from the outside storage houses. The market here will be no doubt an active one."

Swift's Premium Calendar for 1909 consists of reproductions in color of four of the world's famous masterpieces of painting.

The first subject is Gaylord S. Truesdell's pastoral scene, "Going to Pasture." The original of this picture is now in exhibition in the Corcoran Art Gallery, Washington.

Next, Winslow Homer's stirring marine picture, "All's Well," was chosen. This picture is in Homer's best style, showing a strength and simplicity that conveys his idea at a glance. This is among the treasures of the Boston Museum of Fine Arts.

The third subject is Breton's famous "Song of the Lark." This picture, on exhibition at the Art Institute of Chicago, is the best known of the four. This beautiful reproduction faithfully portrays the spirit of the original.

Bouguereau's "The Sisters" complete this finest of all Swift & Company Calendars. Bouguereau is represented in this country by several paintings, especially mural decorations in New York. "The Sisters" in the Metropolitan Museum, is one of his best and happiest efforts.

The calendar can be secured for 10 cents in stamp or coin from Swift & Company, Union Stock Yards, Chicago, Ill., Calendar Dept.
